

Members of the Bournville Village Landscapes Team made the critical transformation from doing one essential job to taking on another completely different but vital role, coming out of the background and into the field to help people in a way only they could achieve. They helped so many people and, who knows, maybe even saved lives. Congratulations from the panel and your community and a huge Thank You from everyone you helped!

From the nomination:

Staff from our landscape service went from pruning hedges to packing and delivering food parcels as they provided a vital role in supporting local foodbanks in Birmingham and Shropshire during Covid.

Staff volunteered to do this work, including at the weekends and over bank holidays, and their selfless support ensured local foodbanks got the much needed help they needed as demand for their services surged.

It's been a great example of organisations in our communities working together, understanding how to support each other (rather than us rushing to create new services that already exist) and delivering well together for the benefit of our residents.
